

Your Pristine Truth Life Experience

In the chaos and uncertainty of life, Nature's Pristine Truth is an absolute fact, a statement that validates its own integrity.

Like a dramatic seascape, its staunch honesty and energy embody purity, simplicity and wellness.

Pristine Truth is etched in the very fabric of the natural world - from the way the sun rises every morning to the gentle swaying of trees in the wind, to our love of Nature's wisdom.

Its anxiety-reducing therapy embeds us in the peace and harmony that thrives in the natural world along with our words that celebrate it.

This feeling of wholeness fills us with wonder, joy and well-being; it helps us happily live a more nature-connected, healthier life, online or onsite.

CRITICAL A new tool solves inner and outer conflicts.
Use/Share/Publish it.

Dear Caring Citizen of Planet Earth

I invite you to celebrate with me what's urgent, new and significant in personal and global sanity-making.

Project NatureConnect is distributing a breakthrough conflict resolution and health declaration. It announces the publication of a legacy article in the October, 2023 Journal of International Ecopsychology,.

The article, "Pristine Truth" Ecopsychology: The Natureness Remedy is in itself alive. Its words resolve our conflicts and reduce our broken world lies and corruption by invoking an unadulterated form of truth. You can apply and enjoy its power to unify things as it grows with everything's wordless survival-together essence rather than our misleading labels and stories.

It is critically important that you apply, publish and share this 296 word statement to stem the conflicts and mental illness that increasingly deteriorate our lives and planet.

The announcement is also located at www.ecopsych.com/ijepost.pdf

A Maverick Genius's Legacy Article Resolves Conflicts in and Around us: Benefit from the aliveness of "Pristine Truth
Ecopsychology, The Natureness Remedy"

A new nature-facts article is a groundbreaking contribution to mental health and an antidote for the conflicts and disorders that plague us, including our wars.

Dr. Michael Cohen's exposé, Pristine Truth Ecopsychology, actualizes his 94-year lifetime centered on how, in natural areas, nature's attraction to grow its beautiful life reduces our corruption. For this, he has been dubbed a maverick genius.

In a world where we learn to prioritize our selfish wants by using words that excessively conquer nature, this article's super honesty catalyzes peace. It let's nature's love to live replace our labels that create anger, lies, and fights that increasingly deteriorate our personal and global well-being. Pristine Truth's naturally unifying joy has been documented; our excessive omission of it creates our discontents.

The article is an organic tool that makes whole-life improvements rather than just more talk. It replaces our outdated, mechanistic, Steady-State worldview words with the expanding life of today's Spacetime Universe, nature's self-correcting love to begin life every moment.

As a potent healing instrument, the article participates in nature's love to live as it flows around and through us. Reading it, we consciously sense, feel and become each moment's heartfelt attraction to live harmoniously.

Hold your breath and feel your anxious and painful separation from Nature's air intensify. Note your happy relief when you genuinely reconnect with nature by inhaling. That unifying attraction is what Nature is and the article does.

By blending our attractions in natural areas with their false objectifying, sensations, labels and stories in our psyche, the article transforms our abusive relations into everything's, all at once, love to be.

Invoke the article's trailblazing process. Add it to any relationship and create therapeutic moments that increase well-being. Live, love and financially benefit from nature's globally purifying attraction energies.

Addenda

Does your heart of hearts actually believe we are going to stop our millennia of runaway lies, hostilities and overuse of Nature without invoking Pristine Truth? Isn't our attraction to it our best hope, the unifying glue, the love that we say is missing?

“It’s an undeniable fact that you are attracted to exist, to live and can think and act as you read these words right now, or when you do anything else.”

Nature is the fountainhead of authority in how its wordless perfection works as it flows around, through, and as us, without producing garbage. The exception to this is our words that deny this truth.

Please share this announcement with others and let us know how we can help you and vice versa.

“As a member of Project NatureConnect’s life-experience accreditation program, I am attracted to sit on this hill with Sandy, gazing out at the vast expanse of nature before me. It’s heartfelt and I can’t help but feel humbled.

For so long, I have believed that I have a good understanding of the world around me. While loving my now-activated pristine truth as it liberates my natural power and integrity, I sense just how restricted I have been.

It is not simply a lack of knowledge that has kept me blind - it was my inability to see beyond the artificiality and bias of the language I have been taught to use. The words we learn to speak are not nature's grandeur, but rather human-made artifacts that excessively conquer or obscure the unifying essence of personal and global life. That's what's breaking our world and me. That's a mental illness.

Nowhere else but Project NatureConnect have I found where pristine truth's evidence-based relations remedy the source of this catastrophe.

By invoking Pristine Truth in a natural area, I am able to use words that strip away the undue artificialities that hold me back. I, instead, wonderfully connect with the essence of the world's therapeutic balance, love and beauty.

This has immunized me to my anxiety and the dysfunctions it creates in me and my children. As I apply the power of my 54 senses, I enjoy and can share the awe-inspiring truths of nature's self-correcting ways.

It's wonderful that I can let this newfound practice guide me through my every twist and turn, knowing that I am not simply a passive observer, but a supportive participant in Nature's love to live and grow its self-correcting ways around, in and as me."
