

Your Pristine Truth Life Experience

In the chaos and uncertainty of life, Nature's Pristine Truth is an absolute fact, a statement that validates its own integrity.

Like a dramatic seascape, its staunch honesty and energy embody purity, simplicity and wellness.

Pristine Truth is etched in the very fabric of the natural world - from the way the sun rises every morning to the gentle swaying of trees in the wind, to our love of Nature's wisdom.

It's stress-reducing ways embed us in the intrinsic peace and harmony that thrives in the natural world along with our words that celebrate it.

This feeling of wholeness fills us with wonder, joy and well-being; it helps us happily live a more nature-connected, healthier life, online or onsite.

As a member of Pristine Truth's life-experience accreditation program, I am attracted to sit on this hill with Sandy, gazing out at the vast expanse of nature before me. It's heartfelt and I can't help but feel humbled.

For so long, I have believed that I have a good understanding of the world around me. While loving my now-activated pristine truth as it liberates my natural power and integrity, I sense just how restricted I have been.

It is not simply a lack of knowledge that has kept me blind - it was my inability to see beyond the artificiality and bias of the language I have been taught to use. The words we learn to speak are not nature's grandeur, but rather human-made artifacts that excessively conquer or obscure the unifying essence of personal and global life. That's what's breaking our world and me.

Nowhere else but Project NatureConnect have I found where pristine truth's evidence-based relations remedy the source of this catastrophe.

By invoking Pristine Truth in a natural area, I am able to use words that strip away the undue artificialities that hold me back. I, instead, wonderfully connect with the essence of the world's therapeutic balance, love and beauty.

This has immunized me to my anxiety and the disorders it creates in me and my children. As I apply the power of my 54 senses, I enjoy and can share the awe-inspiring truths of nature's self-correcting ways.

It's wonderful that I can let this newfound practice guide me through my every twist and turn, knowing that I am not simply a passive observer, but a supportive participant in Nature's love to live and grow its self-correcting ways around, in and as me.

Pristine Truth: "You are Reading These Words This Instant."

Disillusioned? Stressed-Out? Seeking peace and place?
Let Nature's pristine truth pull your sh-t together

It's irrefutably true that you're reading these words here and now- that's the way nature works. It's existential. Sadly, to our loss, it's a Pristine Truth that our society teaches us to omit or conquer.

That's why our abused lives and inaccurate beliefs continue to break our world.

Get smarter. Stop the lies that hurt you and the natural world. Learn and invoke your pristine truth. Increase your personal and planet's well-being by 850%.

You can breathe life into your senses and their sensibility as you embrace the purity of Nature. In addition, you can certify your life experiences, loves and talents by adding training, certificates or degrees in applying Pristine Truth.

Right now these words are pristine truth and it's so attractive that you don't want to stop reading this narrative. In addition, this same phenomenon motivates me to continue writing it here. In that sense, we are unified this instant with each other and everything else in the world. This is because all things happen and grow as one, moment by moment.

The pristine truth is that we hold our attraction to these words in common right now as well as all of Nature. That's the scientific reality of our Big Bang Universe. Consciously connecting with it remedies our outdated, human-centered beliefs that otherwise continue to break our world.

Nature itself is the fountainhead of authority in how its purity balance and beauty work. AT this instant you can choose to benefit from it by continuing to learn about it.

Do you want to deepen your pristine truth connection with nature while also improving your overall health and happiness? Look no further! In natural areas, our program offers pristine truth training, degrees, and certificates that enrich your life experiences through your inherent 54-sense thinking and healing powers.

They enable you to live a happier, more reasonable and fulfilling life by teaching others how to do the same. They restore where artificial efforts make things worse.

RESPONSES TO FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

FAQ 1 How can Project NatureConnect and West Coast University certify and enhance my life experiences?

Welcome to the transformative world of Project NatureConnect and West Coast University, where since 1965, nature, healing and skills go hand in hand.

Our online, multi-sensory programs are designed to awaken your natural intelligence and help you discover and scientifically validate truths about yourself and the world around you. We certify and accredit your ability to digest, enact and share your knowledge and art.

By learning to genuinely connect with authentic Nature, you unlock the secrets of your inner wisdom and tap into the original source of healing and growth because it's authentic and powerful. The skills and truths that you know you hold are accredited as a major part of your certification or degree. You simply add the accredited arts and science of Project NatureConnect courses to them and earn a degree for that ability from West Coast University.

This program is like getting a degree for learning to make the facts in your autobiography increase personal, environmental and social well-being and help others do the same.

With our guidance and support, you can integrate your personal, non-certified wisdom into your life and livelihood, finding joy and fulfillment in every moment. Join us today and exercise the power of your natural intelligence.

By dedicating time to immerse yourself in the natural world and experience its incredible balance and beauty, you establish deep, felt-sense thinking and stronger relationships with all things.

Unlike what traditional academia teaches, Nature is the fountainhead of authority about how it works when it comes to unifying its wellness, peace and perfection.

Why not learn to create moments that let Nature teach you what you need to know and find your place within it? Be amazed at the transformative and economic power in the pristine truth lessons that Nature offers.

Find solace and healing within our skill and degree training. Uplift your heart by knowing that your unorthodox encounters and loves in the great outdoors scientifically hold equal worth, or more, to any textbook or lecture.

As you embark on this journey, not only will you enjoy personal growth, but you will also gain the skills necessary to positively impact those around you. Join us today and begin to flourish in every aspect of your life.

FAQ 2 How can I determine if this program makes sense?

Explore, below, statements that are true for you. Identify what your reasoning knows has been injured. With joy, your life and livelihood can learn how to heal these things here and now.

- () Your pain and common sense tell you that the crazy excessiveness of our Society is breaking our world.
- () You observe that our present forms of Love, Nature, Gods and Honesty are tragically detrimental.
- () You recognize that our current way of life can't correct our destructiveness because it excessively disconnects us from Nature's balance and beauty.
- () You can sense that most of our great influences educate us to fight a suicidal war with nature, around and in us.
- () You observe that our excessive conquest of Nature's life is what's creating our global heating, ecological degradation, mental illness and peace problems. Along with the environment, our war with Nature wounds the nature of our body mind and spirit.
- () The state of our planet is shattered. Making peace with Nature, around, in, and as us (our inner child), is imperative.

() We must learn to reasonably reconnect with authentic Nature. Throughout the eons and before humanity's words and impact, its self-correcting, unified energies maintained well-being everywhere.

Master the essential skills required to heal yourself and others from the devastating effects of our broken world's mounting disconnection from nature.

Validate and empower your heartfelt desire and contribution to mental and environmental health. Add grant-funded training and/or a Ph.D., M.S., B.S. degree in how to compassionately connect your special interests to nature's healing ways.

Take decisive action to improve your life and income by pursuing happiness while advancing all things simultaneously. Securely anchor yourself in nature's wisdom.

Expertly realize your ideal life goals through enjoyable natural area connections and study steeped in trustable, nature-based friendships. Responsibly grow intimate natural delights and values.

Embrace your authentic self as you uncover your pristine truths. Create an evidence-based personal journal about how Nature helps you resolve your life trials while it tracks your progress and academics. Strengthen your natural abilities, credibility, and visibility.

Don't miss this opportunity to let nature's love for your life enhance your true self and vice-versa, - it's the key to sustainable success.

Because this program lets your life experiences and education apply a Pristine Truth “Natureness” tool, it can be mastered in less than a year or two, sometimes a few months. This is not unrealistic. It’s similar to the contribution of advanced driver training to folks who already drive well. If you love Nature, you probably know this is possible because you may have experienced it.

And if you have a better scientific solution for our excessive estrangement from the natural world, show us and get a degree for that.

FAQ 5 What significant events made PNC and WCU create this program?

This FAQ is written with heartfelt thanks to the pioneering efforts of Professor Dr. S. Lloyd, President, West Coast University

On the first Earth Day in 1970, a groundbreaking realization struck humanity like a bolt of lightning. It became undeniably clear that our beloved planet and its precious inhabitants were facing a severe deficit in resources and entering bankruptcy due to our excessiveness. The life of Mother Earth, our ever-generous provider, had been relentlessly drained by our abuse and resulting insatiable wants, leaving her worn and weary.

But this realization paled in comparison to the earth-shattering truth that was unveiled on that fateful day. Society's deeply ingrained belief that the entire universe revolved around us humans, and that everything operated in a predictable, mechanical manner was revealed to be nothing more than a scientific fallacy. Our egocentric human view had blinded us to this astounding reality: Nature, in all its grandeur, was a living masterpiece that was attractively procreating and beginning itself, moment by moment, like a Big Bang fertilized seed that continually created its own life, space, time, balance and beauty.

The core of Nature's genius was at the helm, orchestrating the most spectacular show in existence - the Big Bang, before, then, and its continuing life now. This cosmic event, far from a random explosion, was an irresistible attraction, an awe-inspiring celebration, as, since before forever, Nature wordlessly has loved to create the time and space to grow its longing to live and dance that love into being.

With this newfound awareness, the world collectively realized the urgency of change. No longer could we ignore the warning signs of our planet's exhaustion. The time had come to realign our actions with Nature's intelligence, to heal the wounds we had inflicted upon our ever-giving mother and each other.

And so, Earth Day became more than a symbolic date on our humanity-centered calendar. It marked the beginning of a new, evidence-based, space-time chapter, a pledge to nurture and protect our global home and family. Together, we vowed to replenish the resources we had taken, to cultivate sustainable practices that honored the delicate balance of our ecosystems.

Regrettably, because we ignore the misguided cause and pristine truth remedy to this crisis, our abusive relations, overconsumption and recklessness have driven us to 80% over-depletion of Earth's life in 2022. We have neglected our responsibility to protect the environment and our lack of concern and proper tools has resulted in massive devastation.

Two years before Earth Day, 1970, Project NatureConnect had already established its Expedition Education program. Its goal was to create a USA coast-to-coast travel and camping program that sought nature's teachings and self-correcting ways.

It would deepen our understanding of Nature's elaborate workings and help us incorporate them into our education, counseling and relationship practices.

We dedicated ourselves to establishing 54-sense natural area contacts that let Nature scientifically share with us the self-evident things we needed to know to stop being excessive and reverse our suicidal deterioration around and in us.

Our expeditions awakened the dormant reverence within us, a reminder that we were members of this exquisite blue orb suspended in the vastness of space, not custodians of it.

In the years that followed our expeditions flourished through their self-developed methods and materials. Along with expanded choices, folks thrived in harmony with nature, ever-mindful of our interconnectedness with the universe. Our actions resonated across time and space, weaving a story of redemption, resilience, and hope.

This innovative journey would forever alter our student's perception of the world around and in them. Led by the visionary minds behind Project NatureConnect, they unraveled the mysteries of the cosmos through an unconventional approach – making time and space for nature itself to become the teacher via its direct contact with our 54 natural senses in natural areas. That's exactly the same as how Nature wordlessly functions in natural areas using a myriad of senses except literacy.

As the group ventured deep into the heart of Mother Earth's breathtaking landscapes, they found themselves immersed in a world where every leaf, every breeze, and every creature held valuable natural attraction lessons. Each day brought new opportunities for discovery and enlightenment, as they participated firsthand in the delicate balance that exists within our natural environment and our body, mind and spirit.

Under the canopy of ancient trees, they observed the intricate play between the sun and the shadows it cast, deciphering the language of light and time. By immersing themselves in the vibrant melodies of the forest, they sensed the harmonious rhythm that permeates all living things as it composes the cosmic symphony.

With their fingertips grazing the softness of moss-covered stones, they connected with the wisdom of ages past, and still present, where the secrets of space-time whispered their truths. By standing barefoot upon the fertile soil, they embraced the timeless energy that flows through the veins of the Earth and us, unlocking the secrets of existence itself.

Through the eyes of a curious child, they marveled at the vastness of the starry sky, tracing the constellations with their fingers, as if weaving their own celestial tapestry. Nature had become their science and guide, revealing the profound interconnections between the celestial bodies and the very core of their being.

For 16 years, at each year's end, as each new group bid farewell to the majestic wilderness that had nurtured their growth, they carried with them a newfound knowledge – a symbiotic pristine truth relationship with the natural world, where the exploration of life was not confined to textbooks and laboratories but experienced firsthand, amongst the embrace of nature.

That truth fit into and extended the then-emerging field of Ecopsychology. It was and continues to be a cosmic spectacle, where each breath we take is imbued with the raw energy and facts of the universe, pulsating throughout us.

These revolutionary explorers had become both students and teachers, united in their commitment to nurturing the symbiotic 54-sense bond between humanity and Earth.

Decades later, their legacy lives on, as, online and in local natural areas, each new student discovers the transformative power of nature. This perpetuates the teachings that nature offers to those who are willing to listen.

As Applied Ecopsychology, distant learning, Project NatureConnect continues to ignite the flame of curiosity, paving the way for future adventurers to immerse themselves in the dance of space-time, forging an unbreakable bond between humankind and the great web of life.

West Coast University

During Project NatureConnect's 57-year application of Pristine Truth, in 2004 West Coast University recognized and filled the need for unempowered people, internationally, to gain recognition and strength for skills they learned from their life experiences since formal education was unavailable to them.

In a world where education had failed to reach all corners of society, West Coast University (WCU) emerged as a beacon of hope.

Recognizing that knowledge is not confined to the four walls of a classroom, WCU made a groundbreaking decision. No longer would the path to recognition be limited to indoor classrooms, for there existed a vast ocean of wisdom to be explored beyond those confines through life experiences in it.

In 2005, with open minds and daring spirits, WCU further embarked on a revolutionary mission: to award degrees to those who had sought enlightenment while intimately connected with nature. Project NatureConnect students, explorers at heart, had spent countless times wandering through enchanted forests, traversing majestic mountains, and across mystical waters. Each step, each breath, a lesson learned, a self-evident truth uncovered.

No longer would their experiences and voices be disregarded. As already had several other Universities, WCU acknowledged the depth of wisdom woven into the fabric of these students' souls, born from the space-time continuum they called Nature's life. Now, outside the hallowed halls of academia, WCU degrees would be bestowed upon these brave seekers of truth who were not on expeditions. Instead, through online training in local natural areas, WCU recognized the unconventional yet credible, undeniable education participants received at Project NatureConnect.

The bond between humans and the natural world had always existed, an ancient attraction connection often forgotten in the rush of modern life and its mismanagement of our natural resources. But WCU, with its visionary stance, had become a new catalyst for rekindling this primordial alliance. They saw the profound value in nature's classroom, where every rustle of leaves, every drop of rain, held a message waiting to be heard.

As the years have passed, WCU has become a special place for those yearning to break free from the constraints of traditional education. People from all walks of life find solace and healing within its personal skill and nature-connected degree training, their hearts uplifted by the knowledge that their unorthodox encounters and loves in the great outdoors hold equal worth to any textbook or lecture.

And so, in the year 2005, a new chapter was written in the annals of academia. West Coast University, opened its arms to those who dared to learn beyond the limited, human-centered boundaries set by society. From that moment on, a new wave of recognition and strength surged through interested, but unempowered individuals, as their truths and lessons learned from nature's classroom were celebrated and shared.

In its online presence today, WCU diplomas bearing witness to each student's remarkable nature-reconnecting journey adorn its website, a testament to the power of nature-connected education while its PNC-accredited courses provide academic and CEU credits when needed

FAQ 6. What are the six pristine truth facts that unconditionally validate nature-connected training and life experience?

1. Here's how Michael J. Cohen, Ed.D., Ph.D. (Mikeness) founder of Project NatureConnect, actually became a Prime Truth personification of Natureness that each moment determines our destiny.

“In August, 1965, I was backpacking with a student group when a freak thunderstorm compelled me to directly ask the Grand Canyon Wilderness if it was alive and how its life was different than mine. No surprise, the Wilderness said nothing because Nature doesn’t use or know words. Soon, however, the answers became obvious then, as right now

‘Nature can’t speak and I/humanity can.’

‘If Nature dies, I’d die so Nature has to be alive.’

Without knowing it I had created a Pristine Truth moment that let that instant of Nature’s life demonstrate that it exists and that our words are foreign to it. I call that pristine essence ‘Natureness,’ while, to our loss, our excessively nature-disconnected society reacts to it like it’s an illicit affair.”

2. Today’s broken world demonstrates that because our human-centered forms of Love, Nature, Gods and Honesty are environmentally and socially damaging, we must learn our Pristine Truth and Natureness from unspoiled, constructive sources. Where are they? Do you know of any? Nature does because it is it.

3 Pristine Truth is Nature’s immortal science that, moment-by-moment, holds this universal fact to be self-evident: “It’s absolutely true that your life is attracted to exist, live and breathe and you can act, too, as you are reading these words this instant.” In short, “It’s undeniable that you are reading these words.” This applies to anything else you may be doing anywhere, anytime, not just “reading these words here” now.

This unadulterated fact, applied in local natural areas can be taught internationally in record time via the internet. It is a crucial, but missing remedy for our increasing Earth Misery catastrophe.

4 In Nature's science-based, space-time Universe, simultaneously all things are one growing, nameless life that we call "Nature." Like a seed non-verbally growing to become a tree and its buds, roots, branches, and leaves, Nature is "Since forever or before, as now, its wordless attraction to begin life and love its dance into being, moment by moment." Its life process includes us.

5. "Ess" means essence 'to exist,' or 'to be,' and adding ess to Nature creates "Natureness." Natureness is Nature's self-correcting essence, the essential, Pristine True facts about Nature that justify themselves because they are self-evident. Being 850% more effective than normal, they heal and restore our hurt 54-senses and aching world.

6. By adeptly adding “ness” to all things’ names including thoughts, sensations, dreams and individuals as things, I, Mikeness (Mike plus ness), is writing these words. In any moment, my pristine truth can reasonably add ness to the names of things so they become their essence: treeness, rockness, godness, airness etc.

Then my essence, Mikeness, can 54-sense relate to any and all thing’s attractive essence, the pristine truth ness that all things hold in common, the thing that makes the whole web-of-life kin.

Add ness to your name and essence and you can do the same as you add it to everything else that attracts you in a natural area, including the past, present or predicted. Try it. Do you sense a valued difference between you being archaic, human-centered you, and you being today’s organic, spacetime “Jodyness” (Youness)?

Youness is your inborn Pristine Truth attraction to live in balance and love every moment, as does all of Nature, so all things belong and, unified as one thing, they don’t produce any garbage or undue abuse.

FAQ 7. Where can I find a peer-reviewed overview of this Natureness in Action tool?

The Natureness in Action Tool: A Pristine Truth, Nature-Reconnecting Therapy Transforms our Abuse and Excessiveness into our Love to Peacefully Unite and Heal our Broken World Relations.

Please allow me to reasonably be ~@^#%*& passionate here because talk's cheap and we need appropriate action!

That's why I'm upset about the heartbreaking impact our society has on the life of our planet and us.

As our increasingly damaged world demonstrates, our established ways of knowing Nature, God, Love and Honesty are destructively flawed yet, by law, and at this late date, our leaders still continue to teach us to be and do what their incompetence continues to create.

Part of me is mad as hell that despite all our knowledge, we continue to excessively exploit and wage our society's crippling war against Nature simply because we don't utilize Project NatureConnect's pristine educating, counseling and healing remedy for it.

We are taught to overlook this factual statement that is Nature's Pristine Truth: "As you read these words this instant you absolutely exist, live, breathe and can act right here and now." This is indisputable. Why not always apply it everywhere rather than hide it and suffer accordingly?

Including this Pristine Truth in whatever I do unifies me with all things around and in me. I become delightfully empowered with and by my "Natureness,"

By definition, as now, and since before forever, "Nature is wordlessly attracted to begin life and love its dance into being." It is its intention to do this.

Natureness is the self-correcting essence of Nature that can continually justify itself because it's self-evident. It gives to our wordless universe, our words so it can explain itself to us with them.

Note that our words are abstracts that Nature is not. For example, you can't eat dollar bills to survive.

Nature consists of non-verbal, self-organizing attraction relations that our 54-senses, including our sense of reason, register on the screen of our sense of consciousness.

To help my Pristine Truth include Natureness, I simply locate my essence and add it as "ness," to my name. I become "Mikeness"

As "Mikeness" I can add the ness unity and purifying energies of Natureness to everything I do. In addition, I can communicate my attractions to a tree as kin by calling it "treeness," or with rocks as "rockness," or gods as "godness," air as "airness," and so on. They, in turn, can do the same thing because each is a pristine truth.

This connection is far more powerful and honest than Artificial Intelligence because it's a pure, fact-of-life way to Pristine Truth know and act. It is also a remedy for the dangers that Artificial Intelligence create.

As I add "ness" to things, each new, natural area attraction transforms my excessive stress and curiosity into Nature's love for balance and beauty everywhere at that moment. This brings health, sanity and happiness into my life and those I love. I can sense that all natural things that attract me, love me as I love them and this includes humanity's rational-emotional nature. I delight in Nature's therapeutic and rightful existence everywhere.

When I begin to bond to natural areas, everything is wanted and belongs, so I don't produce abuse or trash around, in or as me. That's what I call Mental Health.

When my Pristine Truth recognizes life being abused or excessively disconnected from Nature, I heartfelt sense how I want to help it recover by establishing pristine truth relations with it. And that's what this narrative invites you to do.

These words further awaken your love and respect for Nature which includes your inner child. It's a deep, sensible happiness that our Society has learned to hurtfully bury alive in us, under our smothering, Nature-disconnected words that hide it from us.

Do you recognize that these words right now are guiding you towards changing your pain from the lies of our broken world into the Pristine Truth rewards of Natureness? Does this feel good and make sense?

I invite you to join me in recognizing that without Natureness, our society continues to abuse the life of Nature, around, in and as us. You can help yourself and all things recover from this through steadfast Natureness contacts that "Youness" loves to make. Together, we can transform our broken world into a warmer place, but in love, kindness, and reason.

Authentic Owls and Howls,

Mikeness
